Web Developer Intern

Jun 2023 – Jul 2023

- Developed and implemented a robust coupon code section within the admin interface, ensured seamless integration, allowing users to apply and redeem coupon codes during transactions.
- Designed and implemented an efficient inventory management system to track product availability, integrated real-time updates for inventory levels, minimizing the risk of overselling or stockouts.
- Implemented database solutions to store and retrieve coupon code and inventory data securely.

PROJECTS

CRAVINGS: Cooking Blog

Project Link

- Cravings stands out for its extensive collection of recipes, showcasing a diverse range of culinary options for users. The use of Nodejs and MongoDB for the backend suggests a robust infrastructure that can efficiently handle the organization and retrieval of a large number of recipes.
- The frontend design of Cravings, incorporating both Bootstrap and Tailwind CSS, reflects a modern and user-friendly interface. The combination of these front-end frameworks suggests a careful consideration of responsiveness.

WEATHER FORECAST WEB APP

Project Link

- The inclusion of a search box to input city names makes the website user-friendly and accessible. This feature allows users to quickly obtain weather information for a specific location, also ensured responsive design for enhancing the overall user experience.
- Displaying temperature in both degrees and Fahrenheit, along with additional information such as humidity and wind speed, adds value to the website.
